Fotography of stillborn babies

When your world stops spinning...

You gently caress tiny fingers, soft fluffy hair and your heart melts at the sight of such beauty.

You try to breathe in every detail, so you'll never forget...

Hold on to these emotions

You've just become a parent! Of course you're proud and perhaps you want pictures of your newborn and your new little family to show to the world, or just to cherish.

These pictures might also help you to come to terms with losing your baby...

It's free

Our photo sessions are always free of charge.

We put our heart and soul in creating precious memories out of love and respect for you and your baby.
